

A RESEARCH PAPER
presented to Mr. Donald A. Parvin

by Robin Joye Strobe

This small church was organized in the year 1816 in a little village in New York, which was just a few miles from the Pennsylvania border. It was first named the Owego Free Will Baptist Church. The reason for this was because the later designated village of Apalachin was found in the township of Owego, New York. As the years went by and the village was given the name of Apalachin, the "Owego" title was given the name of Apalachin, the "Owego" title was changed to read South Apalachin Free Will Baptist. This change occurred about 1954. It was the next year that the name of the church was given its present title of South Apalachin Baptist Church.

In the fundamental stages of the church, their regular meetings were called "Covenant Meetings". These were held every two weeks on Saturday evenings, instead of the Sunday worship that we now have. As the faith began to grow within the surrounding communities, new churches were being planted. To keep communication open among these churches, a Quarterly Meeting was established. This type of structure enabled the faith to prosper and kept a close bond between believers. It revealed the needs and the praises taking place among the sister churches.

In the early 1900's when liberalism became so widespread, the Gibson Quarterly Conference, to which South Apalachin was a member, became determined that they would not heed to the liberal's teaching. They showed this determination by not joining the Northern Convention after all other Free Will Quarterly Conferences had. It is from viewing the stand that my forefathers took on such issues as this that my own strength can be rekindled and strengthened. It is not amazing to me at all to see that God has rewarded this church down through the years. Although at times it has had its trials, I stand in adoration to see that the same faith which made my ancestors strong is the same faith I see evident in the men who lead the church today.

Chapter 1 - When the South Apalachin Church was Started

It was in the month of October in the year of 1816 that the South Apalachin Baptist Church, then called the Owego Free Will Baptist, originated. It consisted of one newly ordained evangelist and fourteen eager members. It took great courage and faithfulness to step out in those times and to stand for what you believed. But the starting members of this church had a common eagerness to study the Word of God and to have fellowship with other believers.

Chapter 2 - Why the Church was Started

The Owego Free Will Baptist society was organized out of true concern for fellowship among local believers. The Free Baptist faith originated in the New Hampshire area around the year 1790 by Rev. Benjamin Randall. The faith flourished and progressed to this area in New York through an ordained minister sent from the yearly meeting in Vermont. The society embraced two neighborhoods: one in the location of Little Meadows, Pa. and the other in the hamlet of South Apalachin, New York.

Churches in those times were hard to establish, mainly due to the space there was between farms. People couldn't go to church every week because of the distance required in traveling. Therefore communication among members was hard to obtain and continue. But the residents in this community had determined to establish a society, and eventually a church, in which Christ would be exalted and worshipped. The believers had been introduced to the Free Will faith and decided to stand on these doctrines, although in the future they would be altered by their descendants. So on these terms the Owego Free Will Baptist Church was born.

Chapter 3 - The Charter Members of the South Apalachin Church

The South Apalachin Baptist Church had begun its existence with only fourteen members. Unfortunately, among the early records these people were not named individually, but instead were stated just under one title. Therefore, it is impossible for one to tell who were the charter members and the founders of the church.

Chapter 4 - The Pastors Who have Served in the South Apalachin Church

Down through the years there have been a number of pastors who have ministered to this church. In the 1800's there were several ordained ministers that traveled from church to church within the area. Therefore, during this time the south Apalachin Church, then called the Owego Free Will, did not have one particular pastor, but instead several that ministered to them on the Lord's Day. As the years went on the church enrollment increased, the people saw the need to have their own ordained pastor to minister to their needs. The following is a list of all the pastors that have ministered in this church down through the years:

1870-1877	Rev. Welcome Johnson
May 12, 1877	Rev. D.D. Brown
Dec. 13, 1879	Brother Sails
July 10, 1880	Rev. M.W. Dodge
1887	Rev. W. Fuller
Jan. 14, 1888	Rev. D.D. Brown
April 14, 1888	Rev. F.A. Jaynes
Sept. 12, 1891	S.S. Snell
1894-1895	S.S. Snell resigned
1896-1897	Brother J. Chidester
1903-1907	Rev. Glasson
1908-1911	Pastor Slocum
1911-1912	Rev. Henry Space
1912-1925	Interim pastors from Practical Bible Training School
1925-1927	Rev. William Owens
1928-1929	Pastor Ralph Chaffee
1932-1935	Rev. Charles Young
1935-1937	Rev. Alvin Harms
1938-1939	Rev. Shoemaker
1940-1943	Rev. Leroy Westbrook
1943-1953	Rev. Ralph Chaffee
1953-1960	Pastor Gordon Hay
1961-1968	Pastor Gordon Houser
1969-	Pastor James Walter

Many of the early record books were destroyed in the fire that brought the church down to its foundation. Because of this, one cannot really tell for sure what exactly happened in many instances. For these reasons, the list of pastors before the year of 1870 is left to speculation. One cannot tell when the first ordained pastor was designated. Records show that in the beginning of the church, they had travelling ministers, but one cannot know for sure when this discontinued.

Chapter 5 - What the Building Programs at South Apalachin Consisted of Down through the years the church has had several building programs, such as helping various missionaries or fellow Christians in need. But there have been basically six building projects that have gone on within the church itself. In the beginning of the church, the society was meeting in various farmhouses or barns. But as the group increased, they found a need to build a church. So it was through the means of donations of both labor and money that a building was erected on the corner of the little village in 1844. In 1847 records show that the covenant meetings were regularly held every two weeks on Saturday evenings in the meeting house. They consisted of devotional meetings with reading of Scripture, prayer and testimony, followed by any business needing attention and receiving of candidates for baptism or membership. But as records go on, an event is recorded that quickly brought these meetings to a halt for a temporary time. Because of a church quarrel, a fire of "undetermined" origin reduced the building to ashes on November 12, 1859.

As a result of the fire, the second building project was conceived. The church family had started the planning and building of a new church in 1860, but it wasn't until the year 1865 that the building constructed on the site, was finished.

This church building was seen as very satisfactory to its members. It was finally constructed by the men in the church and it provided ample space for the family. But as the years passed, the number of members continued to grow. More families were populating the area and were attending the South Apalachin Church for their fellowship and time of worship. Therefore, it was around the year 1943 that the church felt compelled to build an annex onto the building to provide for its continually increasing family. This resulted in the third building project.

After World War II the village of Apalachin and areas surrounding, continued to increase in population. Large plants, such as IBM and General Electric, were built, adding to the growth in the community. For these reasons, South Apalachin Church continued to increase. And it was in the year 1965 that a new and larger church was constructed near the site of the older building that had provided for its members in the past.

For the fifth building project, in 1970 a new parsonage was constructed in front of the new church. It was trimmed with similar brick as that of the church so to add to the beauty of the community and bring honor and glory to the Lord. Because of the tremendous growth in the youth department in the late 1960's, the church decided to build an all-purpose gym for the recreation of its family. It was added right to the church itself, so that it could be used at the people's convenience. This has been latest building project the church has derived. It has been widely used by the old, as well as the young, within the church. I believe it was this project that brought the church family closer together as they were able to fellowship in many informal activities.

Chapter 6 - The Growth of the Church

The South Apalachin Church has grown from only fourteen members to the present attendance which numbers around three hundred. In the early history, the church was as inspiration to the community and a real stronghold of it but it wasn't until close to World War II that a significant increase in membership began to take place. It was about this time that the Industrial Revolution was taking shape in the small hamlet and areas surrounding. Transportation was becoming more accessible, enabling members to attend church more regularly. As a result, the Owego Free Baptist increased in number. Other denominations within the community sprang up, but the church in the small town of Apalachin was the only Baptist church as of yet.

Within the middle to late 1900's, the growth of the church has fluctuated. For example, when the war raged at home and abroad, the number of members decreased because of the enlistment of husbands and sons. But in times of peace, the growth of membership increased as a result of the evangelism that was not able to be done in times of war. For example, in the last twenty years, the church has made a steady increase. This can be attributed to more children being raised within the church and also a more effective outreach within the community.

As a whole, the growth of the church can be seen significantly. We began with our founding fathers numbering fourteen, to where the church now holds approximately three hundred. But not only has the church grown in numbers in the past twenty years, it has also strengthened spiritually. People are beginning to understand what being a Christian really means. To be Christ-like is their ultimate goal. It is this kind of growth that God is more concerned with. Although one cannot forget that the numerical growth of the church needs to be seen when Christians are living righteously before the Lord.

Chapter 7 - The Youth Work within South Apalachin Baptist

In the early history of the church there was no established form of youth work to be found. As the work increased they had divided Sunday Schools, but still no form of youth program was needed, mainly because of all the work the children had to do at home on the family farms. But again, as the area became more populated, more attention was given to the need of filling the young people with good spiritual food. It was about this time that an evening youth group program was established. It was designed to give the young people a more concentrated study of the word. The youth leaders have been older people within the church who have had a desire to help the young people mature spiritually. In the beginning years of this organization, material was derived from various sources. But in 1976, the Word of Life program was established. It was prosperous for four years, and then the young people were not able to keep up with the material because of too many activities. It was in the early 1960's that the other organizations were established called Pioneer Girls and Christian Service Brigade. These were developed not only for the furtherance of their own children's spirituality, but also to filter out and reach other children's lives within the community.

It can be seen that the youth programs within the church have grown steadily, not only concerning members, but also spiritually. It is important for young people to be founded in the Word before they are to leave home and live in the world on their own.

Chapter 8 - The Missionary Emphasis within South Apalachin Baptist Church

From looking in the old records, one would come to the conclusion that the Owego Free Will Baptist Church had no missionary emphasis in its fundamental stages. In fact, it wasn't until the early 1900's that any evidence of missionary support is found taking place. The church began to send out fellow members to various fields and supported their work through financial means.

As the years have progressed, the South Apalachin Church has increased in its financial support of missionaries. The congregation has become concerned with the various needs of missionaries and has found it biblically needful for the church to support "laboring Christians". One aid that has found its own way of helping in this area is the Ladies Missionary. This group of women has regularly organized barrels of goods to be sent to supported missionaries to satisfy their daily needs. This organization gives the women of the church opportunity to help in an area from which they are able, while at the same time, satisfying the needs of the missionaries. The missionary emphasis in South Apalachin is steadily growing from year to year. By presentations given by various missionaries, the people in the church are continually being made aware of different needs that have to be met. The congregation has sought to find the Lord's will on this issue of which missionary to support financially. But no matter what the final decision is, they intend to hold each candidate up in prayer.

Chapter 9 - The Visitation - Evangelism Outreach of the Church

South Apalachin has never had a set technique or organization for the duty of evangelism. It is not mentioned what they did in earlier times, but one can speculate that evangelism was done very casually between neighbors. No suit and tie were needed to invite their neighbor to church on Sunday. But as time has gone on and the village has become more populated it can be seen that people do not know who their neighbors are anymore. Christians need to take the time to sit down with their friends and talk to them about the Lord. This is why a few years ago, Tuesday nights were designated as visitation evening. This is a time when members go and visit people for whom they have a burden. It's a time for edification of weak Christians and the exhortation of believers.

South Apalachin Baptist does not put a great deal of emphasis on evangelism within the church service (i.e., altar calls, salvation invitations). It deals more with the edification of the believer. For it is basically the individual's responsibility for witnessing to people, not the church's. The church's responsibility is held in edifying and developing a person spiritually, so that he can go out and witness for Christ. This is the philosophy of the members as they continue to reach out to the Lord.

THE CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS of the

SOUTH APALACHIN BAPTIST CHURCH

South Apalachin, New York

APPROVED 1968

ARTICLE I - ORGANIZATION

Section 1. This church is to be known as the South Apalachin Baptist Church of South Apalachin, New York.

Section 2. The temporal affairs of this church shall be managed according to the laws of the State of New York relating to Baptist Churches, under the corporate title of "The South Apalachin Baptist Church of South Apalachin, New York".

ARTICLE II - BELIEF

Section 1. THE SCRIPTURES. We believe in the Supernatural Inspiration and Infallible Authority of the Scriptures, including both the Old and New Testaments, and accept the whole Bible as the Word of God and our rule of faith and practice. We grant to each individual the right to interpret the Scriptures for himself, but "Interpretation" must not be construed as meaning the right to disbelieve the plain statements of the Bible.

Section 2. GOD. We believe the scriptures reveal God as eternally existing, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent, a trinity of three persons -- Father, Son, and Holy Spirit -- One in essence and power.

Section 3. THE PERSON OF JESUS CHRIST AND HIS WORK. We believe in the Deity of our Lord Jesus Christ; His Virgin Birth; His sinless life; His substitutionary death on the cross for our sins; His physical resurrection from the grave; His ascension to the right hand of God where He ever liveth to make intercession for believers, and His personal, visible, bodily return.

Section 4. THE HOLY SPIRIT. We believe that the Holy Spirit is a person, a member of the Holy Trinity, possessed of all the Divine attributes of God. We believe that He is the administrator of the things of God, convicting of sin, of righteousness, and of judgement, bearing witness to the truth concerning Jesus Christ. We believe that He indwells every born-again believer, guiding him in matters of prayer and service. Every believer should not only be indwelt by the Holy Spirit, but is commanded to be filled with the Spirit. We believe the Holy Spirit is restraining evil "until He is taken out of the way."

Section 5. MAN. We believe that God created man in His own image and that man came into the world by direct creation of God and not by evolution; that this creative act of God was separate and distinct from any other work of God and therefore we reject the theory of man's origin which links him with the brute. We believe the scriptural record of the fall of man, through disobedience to God, which was only possible because God gave man a will to choose for himself, and that by choice and by nature, man is "dead in trespasses and sins."

Section 6. SALVATION. We believe the salvation of sinners is wholly of grace; through the mediatorial offices of the Son of God, who, by appointment of the Father, freely "took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of man" yet without sin; honored the Divine law by His personal obedience, and by His death made a full atonement for our sins, that having risen from the dead He is now enthroned in heaven; and uniting in His wonderful person the tenderest sympathies and Divine perfections. He is every way qualified to be a suitable, a compassionate, and an all-sufficient Savior. Salvation is by faith in the shed blood of Jesus Christ.

Section 7. THE CHURCH AND ITS ORDINANCES. We believe a local Fundamental Baptist Church is a Voluntary association of baptized believers, equal in rank and privilege, subject to the Word of Christ, and independent of any external ecclesiastical control whatsoever. We believe God's Word commands every believer (and believers only) to be baptized and that the only scriptural mode is by immersion. We believe the ordinance of the Lord's Supper should be observed as Christ said, "In remembrance me" (or His broken body and shed blood for us). "For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till He come." We don't believe the supper has any sacramental virtue.

Section 8. EVANGELIZATION. We believe it is the solemn obligation of every believer to be a personal soul-winner and to do his utmost to carry out the Saviour's command to give the gospel to the whole world.

ARTICLE III - COVENANT

Having been led, as we believe, by the Spirit of God, to receive the Lord Jesus Christ as our Saviour, and on the profession of our faith, having been baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, we do now in the presence of God, angels, and this assembly, most solemnly and joyfully enter into covenant with one another, as one body in Christ. We engage, therefore, by the aid of the Holy Spirit to walk together in Christian love; to strive for the advancement of this church, in knowledge, holiness and comfort; to promote its prosperity and spirituality; to sustain its worship ordinances, discipline, and doctrines; to contribute cheerfully and regularly to the support of the ministry, the expenses of the church, the relief of the needy, and the spread of the gospel through all nations. We also engage to maintain family and secret devotion; to scripturally educate our children; to seek the salvation of our kindred and acquaintances; to walk circumspectly in the world; to be just in our dealings, faithful in our engagements, and exemplary in our deportment; to avoid all tattling, backbiting, and excessive anger; to abstain from the sale and use of intoxicating drink as a beverage to be, zealous in our efforts to advance the kingdom of God. We further engage to watch over one another in brotherly love; to remember each other in prayer; to aid each other in sickness and distress; to cultivate Christian sympathy in feeling and courtesy in speech; to be slow to take offence, but always ready for reconciliation, and mindful of the rule of our Saviour, to secure it without delay. We moreover engage that, when we remove from this place, we shall as soon as possible unite with some other church where we can carry out the spirit of this covenant and the principles of God's Word.
